

Having your smile enhanced can make a huge difference to the way you look as well as boosting your confidence. But increasingly our patients also want to address the issue of wrinkles, crows' feet and smile lines.

Our expertise in the anatomy of the facial area, combined with the sterile environment in which we work, makes us ideally placed to offer facial rejuvenation treatments.

Anti-wrinkle treatment

This is best for treating facial lines that have been caused by muscle movement, such as frown lines across the forehead and between the eyebrows, and crows' feet around the eyes. A simple injection into the area to be treated freezes the muscles, which relaxes them, softening lines and preventing further wrinkles from occurring.

Restylane® and Hydracoll®

Restylane® and Hydracoll® are injectable gels containing hyaluronic acid. This is a natural substance which binds with the water within your skin, hydrating it, lifting it and helping it to look firmer. The treatment can be used to enhance your lips, making them look fuller and reducing the lines around the edges. It can also be used to improve your facial contours.
